Week 1: Theatre Production Camp

Meet Pamela, an actress and theatre teacher, coming from Ontario, Canada. She first stumbled upon the stage in her teen years, against all stage fright, and was surprised to find a world of personal expression and freedom through a love for play and imagination. She's since performed in and directed various productions throughout Canada and Paris, where she has now resided for the last six years. After her training as an actress at Cours Florent, and Keys Acting Studio, she's since had the joy to teach children of different ages with language and confidence through theatre, over the last 4 years. An innovative & caring method to improve self expression and effective communication. Learn or improve English through the exercises of speech, gestures, and practice. Develop imagination and promote personal expression through improvisation. Develop creativity to tell and create many stories. Work on choreography, direction, speech, and all other aspects of a stage production in order to produce a show by the end of the week. Optimize your voice: breathe, listen, apply!

Louise Denyer

LOUISE DENYER is a native British actress, born and raised in England, educated and trained in England and France as a solicitor (lawyer), but retrained as a professional film and theatre actress at the acting schools of ECOLE DE JEU and METHOD ACTING CENTER in Paris. She has over 15 years of professional acting and coaching experience and has performed in numerous theatre, film, television, commercials, Voice-Over and dubbing productions in Paris, London, Moscow and Madrid. She has specialised in coaching and teaching acting to both children and adults, professional or amateur in English, as well teaching English through the means of acting and drama.

Louise has taught children, teenagers and adults of all levels and backgrounds, in many different schools and associations, including amongst many, in Paris, the EAB (Ecole Active Bi-langue), Langues en Scene, La Providencia, Ecole Sainte- Marie of Anthony, Kids on Stage, Hermitage International, ISP (International School of Paris) Marymount School, and in Madrid (Spain), Escuela de Valdesfuentes, Best Teacher and Casita Inglés.

She regularly teaches intensive holiday weekend acting in English for film and theatre workshops for both children and adults, where often students learn not only real acting skills, techniques and exercises but also to write, direct and act in their own scripts.

Moreover, she firmly believes that using acting and drama skills can certainly help to increase students' confidence and communication and oral expression in English, all carried out within a fun, safe and educational environment.

Apart from being a native English speaker, she is a fluent French and Spanish speaker.

During the Covid pandemic, like many actors she invested and converted her creative, artistic skills by creating her own 2 online web-series on social media, entitled, LUCY POPPET and WEEKEND HOT SPOTS, with over 300 videos, all of which she independently wrote, directed, acted, filmed and produced. She continues to write for stage and screen and direct independent productions.

Furthermore, you can see some of her acting performances on her 2 acting show reels, the first in English and French, on her website www.louisedenyer.com or with the link: : Louise Denyer

Week 2: Film Acting Camp

Looking for a fun, different and educational activity to start your teenagers summer vacation off with a bang, then why not try this new Film Acting in English Camp? Acting Programme includes, acting for theatre, film and NEW web-series/music video creation: Like many professional actors forced during covid to create and perform online their own web-series, music clips and videos, we will help the children, to write their own mini web-series/music clips and videos, creating interesting characters, story-lines and plots to be filmed or acted live by them.

Workshop's aims: This year, we hope to provide the children with a genuine acting experience, to reactivate the children's imagination and creativity, to teach them real acting skills through learning and using professional acting games, techniques, exercises and improvisation, to enable them to produce creative performances and enhance personal confidence and oral communication in English.

Workshop structure: Every morning we start with a range of different warm-up exercises for the body, voice and emotional state, then cover skills such as improvisation, acting techniques for voice, theatre, film and web-series, physicality, concentration & focus, script writing and directing.

The children will be given scenes to work on and to perform during the afternoon sessions either in pairs or small groups/individual monologues, then finish with cool-down exercises and a regrouping session so the children can reflect, make observations or comments over what they have learnt.
